FOUNDING OF C. E. TO BE CELEBRATED

Central Evangelical Church Plans Fine Christian Endeavor Program

Fifty years ago next Sunday, Dr. Francis E. Clark founded the Christian Endeavor Society in his little parsonage of the Williston Congregational church in Portland, Maine. The anniversary of that start of an organization which now numbers more than 80,000 societies, will be observed Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Central Evangelical church, according to an announcement received yesterday from Rev. G. G. Schmid. "Today millions of enthusiastic young people are happy to wear the popular C. E. pin and march under its banners," the Central Evangelical pastor declared. "It is an inter-denominational and inter-racial organization. There are three societies in the Central Evangelical church which meet at 6:30 o'clock each Sunday night." All three groups will meet at 7:30 o'clock next Sunday to observe the semi-centennial anniversary of the organization. The program may be found in the church notices on this page.

ELEMENTARY School Notes

There are three new instructors at the Torrance elementary school this semester. Miss Lila May Whitney is home economics teacher, replacing Mrs. Agnes Babbitt, who resigned. Mrs. Helen M. Greenleaf Wittstein is to have charge of home economics in the bungalow. Mr. Earl Vincent Francis will be here Monday and Thursday of each week for agriculture. Mr. Thomas T. Babbitt, who has been here four days a week, will now come Monday, Wednesday, and Tuesday mornings.

The fifth and sixth grades have as a part of their physical education, certain activities known as "self-testing events." There are six or seven events each semester. The self-testing events for the fall semester were: volleyball serve; soccer kick for distance; handball serve; basketball throw for distance; basketball throw for goal; basketball one minute field throw for goal; and basketball 10 trial field throw for goal.

If a student is able to do five out of the six or seven events according to a certain standard, which has been determined by grade and age, he is given a "gold certificate." The fall events have been finished and those awaiting "gold certificates" are: Rom Armstrong, Josephine Brandon, Florence Buchman, Catherine Casbake, Margaret Doner, Tsuyoko Fukui, Dorothea Joyce, Daphne Landreth, Dorothy Elder, Mildred Higgins, Margaret Hogue, Corinne Nickerson, Eloise Wood, Joyce Davis, Lois Everett, Yoshiko Kubo, Mary Ortega, Grace Kobashi, Geraldine Bradford, Margaret Batonsky, Emily Coates, Fumiko Isikawa, Betty Johns, May Ortega, and Grant Chris.

"Who Are 'Wicked'?" Is Discussion Topic Sunday Night Here

In connection with the message of Rev. R. A. Young on the subject, "Is God Angry, or Displeased with the Wicked?" will be an interesting discussion to all who would like to know who is wicked. Ahe the "down and out" or "the down and never out" or "the self-righteous" wicked? The Sunday school orchestra will sing in solo, accompanied by the orchestra. The college team from the First Methodist church of Los Angeles will also give musical numbers, and speak to the young people of the church.
